

Sequoits Trounce Bensenville Wed.

Will Play Second Place Palatine Team Friday

Antioch high school's Fighting Sequoit basketball team chalked up another win Wednesday evening when they met the Bensenville team at Bensenville. The locals wound up on the long end of an 86 to 55 score. The Sequoits played a brilliant game throughout and this was, perhaps, their best performance of the season. The Bensenville team more or less held its own during the first half, but was consistently outplayed, and folded up in the third stanza.

Score by quarters shows that the Antioch boys lead scoring all during the game. The first quarter ended with Antioch ahead by 18 to 15; second quarter totals were 41-28. In the third quarter Antioch showed superiority, scoring 21 points to Bensenville's 8, putting the game on ice. The fourth quarter was played entirely by Antioch's second squad and the replacements also outscored Bensenville - counting 24 points as against 10 for their rivals.

Sophs Win 46-25

Coach Polley's sophomore team also scored a run-away victory at Bensenville, to total 8 wins and 1 loss for the season. The one game lost was by forfeit, due to inadvertent playing of an ineligible student. The game was actually won by the Antioch team, but when the mistake was discovered, Antioch notified the other team and gave the game by forfeit, showing that Antioch high school athletics are on a high plane of sportsmanship.

To Play at Palatine Friday

Coach Scott's men will meet the toughest competition of the season Friday evening when they journey to Palatine to play the second place team of the conference. The Palatine team has lost but one game, and that to Antioch on the local floor. Coach Scott said that meeting the Palatine team on their own small floor would be equal to giving a 10-point handicap.

Granting that the Sequoits can get by Friday's game, the conference championship seems assured, since games left to play will be with Grayslake and Grant, neither of which are regarded as strong teams.

30 Men Participate In Boy Scout Fund Campaign In Antioch

Edward C. Jacobs, community chairman for the Boy Scout drive to be held in Antioch beginning this week has called for the united support of all citizens in the community.

In making this plea, Mr. Jacobs pointed out the greatly increased costs of operation of the program, as well as the expansion in units and service that has been afforded the past year. Membership, and units serving this area has grown greatly during 1952. Within the last three years, boy membership has grown from 3100 to over 5400, and the number of troops, packs, and explorer units in proportion. Leaders have increased in number from 863, to 1550 in the same period.

Of even greater importance is the fact that the number of boys that will need scouting will increase by 40 per cent during the next three years, due to the higher birth rate during the post war years. The North Shore Area Council is developing plans to serve the increasing boy crop, and must provide facilities, and units to meet the need.

An organization of 30 men for carrying out the finance drive in Antioch has been completed.

Antioch Chapter, O. E. S. will hold a regular meeting tonight at the Masonic Temple at 8 o'clock.

Antioch Beats Ela; Tough Game Friday Night At Palatine

Whether Antioch High will share conference championship with Palatine or not will be determined Friday evening when the Sequoits meet the league's runner-up at Palatine. Palatine has not been beaten on her home floor but Antioch won here.

The Sequoits hurdled a big obstacle in their conference race last Friday when they defeated Ela-Vernon 70 to 60 here.

Antioch was slow in starting and lost the first quarter 13 to 17. The Sequoits came back strong in the second quarter and tied the Bears at the half 35-all. From there on the home players held an advantage, taking the third quarter 18 to 12 and the fourth 17 to 13.

Ben Floyd and Bruce Stahmer led the scoring for Antioch, Floyd scoring 20 points, mostly from the field and Stahmer, 23 points, nine of which were foul goals.

Prouty with 15 points and Cole with 14, were high for Ela-Vernon.

'Going Places' Picked As Senior Class Play To Be Given Mar. 24

The senior class of Antioch High school has selected its class play to be given Friday evening, March 27, in the new high school auditorium.

The play committee who worked with Mrs. Tulumello to make the selection consisted of Loraine Steinel, Mary Fields, Joan Cervenka, Shoyyer, f., and Mary Kisel. After narrowing the plays down to six choices, the one finally selected was "Going Places" by Glenn Hughes. The author of this play has written many other favorites including "Spring Fever," "Running Wild," "Beginner's Luck," and many other plays.

The play selected is a comedy and three-act royalty play produced by Row, Peterson and Company of New York City.

Thirty-five seniors are trying out for parts in the play, 12 boys and 23 girls. From this group will be selected a cast of five boys, seven girls, and two stage managers. All try-outs are being held this week. The final cast selected will be ready to go into operation on Monday evening, Feb. 16, in the high school auditorium. Practices are scheduled each evening from 7 to 9 o'clock on Monday through Friday except for the evenings on which basketball games are scheduled at the high school.

Noticeably absent this time was Mayor James McMillen, who was confined to his home with influenza.

The Antioch Rescue squad was called to Channel Lake yesterday by a mother whose child was stung in a fall. The child recovered before the squad arrived, in fact, its recovery was so quick that the mother tried to cancel the call, but failed.

School Permits Little League To Construct Diamond On Property

Permission was given by the Antioch Grade school board of education Tuesday evening to the Antioch Little League to grade and use school property fronting on Williams st., known as the Kaufmann lots, as a baseball diamond.

Fearing that subdivision of the village property east of the Soo Line tracks used last year for games would deprive the league of a diamond this summer, advisers of the league asked the board for use of the school grounds.

Appearing before the board were Charles Larson and Anthony Scully who said the league would level the land and put up a backstop. This would also provide a playground for the school in view of the loss of some of the present ground through construction of the new addition to the building.

Firemen Called to Petite Lake

The fire department was called to the vicinity of Kemp's resort at Petite lake last evening, but was stopped before arrival by persons who said the fire was under control and the firemen were not needed. ### Price of Inflation

Drops in farm prices have been substantial. The index in mid-December stood at 96 per cent of parity compared with 107 a year ago and 122 per cent in 1946. Some major crops are selling below 90 per cent of parity.

Consumers wonder why they don't find similar declines in food prices. The reason is simple. Major costs of any business today are made up of irreducible expenditures that are the result of twenty years of inflationary trend, which has seen the value of the dollar cut in half. This has put a higher value on everything from matches to locomotives. The cost of goods and services that enter into the operation of a retail store have doubled and tripled in some instances.

Consider taxes. In pre-inflation days they were not a burden. Today taxes cost us more than our food and clothing combined. Hundreds of taxes are included in the price of necessities. They begin on the farm and accumulate through every step of the production and distribution process. A large part of current high prices for processed and manufactured products is due to taxes.

Then consider what has happened to wages—those paid by retailers are no exception. Also they have another new cost—a mountain of paper work and expensive legal guidance in attempting to comply with those evil misnomers called price controls. Current reductions in some farm prices largely evaporate in inflation and taxes before they can be passed along to consumers. This is the penalty we pay for swallowing the advice peddled by spend-ourselves-rich politicians.

If it were not for the efficiency of the modern retailer who is able to operate on an infinitesimal net profit margin per sale, we would be back to a barter system.

Hit and Run Taxes

When an electric power company asks for a rate increase to meet today's inflated costs of operation which are made up of higher wages, higher costs for all supplies, and higher taxes, it naturally bears the brunt of any public opposition.

But strange as it may seem, the biggest beneficiaries of such an increase, the tax collectors, can sit back, take their rake-off, and escape public criticism.

For example, in Louisiana recently the state commission authorized an electric company to increase its rates 20 per cent in compliance with a supreme court ruling. The raise meant an estimated $2,500,000 extra revenue but the company will keep little more than $1,000,000—government taxes will take the lion's share.

It is a safe bet that all news stories of such an occurrence will read "Power company gets rate boost." None will read "taxes boost power rates."

The situation is a lot like reports on a hit and run driver. The victim of circumstances (in the present case the power company) gets the publicity, and the tax collector culprit is lost in the shuffle.

Grass Roots Opinion

MADISON, GA., MORGAN COUNTY NEWS: "Why try to produce milk when you can't get enough for it to pay your feed bills? . . . People do not want milk anymore, anyway, they want beer. You have to make the people what they want. Beer is 40c a quart and milk is 20 cents a quart and it costs more to produce a quart of milk than it does a quart of beer. Therefore, from a plain business standpoint all the dairy farmers should go into the production of beer."

FAIRFIELD, IOWA, DAILY LEDGER: "No department needs as thorough a clean-up as the Interior Department. A very large number of socialistic schemes have been attempted in this department and as a result all kinds of personnel are on the payroll and doing little."

MALTA, MONTANA, PHILLIPS COUNTY NEWS: "When President Truman recently recommended that Congress continue certain income tax exceptions for three of the nation's top officials there was no audible shout of approval either from Congress or the country at large. General opinion seems to be that in these days of heavy taxation of all kinds for everybody there should be no special concessions made to anyone . . ."

NARROWSBURG, N. Y., NEWS-TIMES: "The press has sometimes been criticized for squawking too much about their own freedom. But it is not their own freedom in question, it is the freedom of the people to have a press which can give them all the facts on the news of the day without being subject to censorship."

The official Church Board held its regular business meeting last Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Marie Hamlin after a pot luck supper and a pleasant social time. Miss Verna Bennecke who has been church treasurer for some time is resigning because of her coming marriage, will be succeeded by George Sebela until the end of the church year in June. She was presented with a silver coffee service by the group as a small token of appreciation for the splendid service she has rendered the church. William Walker has returned home after a stay at the Condell hospital for treatment of flu and complications.

Foreign Mahogany

African mahogany grows on the Ivory Coast, the Gold Coast and in Nigeria in West Africa. It is also found in the Cameroons, French Equatorial Africa and in Belgian Congo, but these sources are not well known and so far have contributed little to American imports. There is mahogany on the east coast of Africa and on the island of Madagascar that has not reached American markets.

"Temples"

The sidepieces of a pair of spectacles are sometimes called "temples," a relic of the time when glasses were held in place by short arms which pressed firmly against the temples.

Malaria Eliminated

Malaria mosquitoes scourged the beautiful Mediterranean island of Cyprus from the dawn of history, but modern insecticides in the years since World War II have completely eliminated the disease.

Antinomianism

Antinomianism is the doctrine that the Gospel or the Christian faith does away with the old moral law, so that the Christian is not bound by it.

Child's Fear

Your child's fear of the dark may vanish if you paint a miniature candle with luminescent paint on his bedside lamp. That will remind him the light is there when he wants to use it.

Colored Shellac

Bob Switzer Is DU National Champion

Bob Switzer, 1952 National DU Champion, Pat Ryan Memorial DU Trophy winner, breaks DU record in 1952 1/2 mile Trial. Score his Switzer. Craft 8:41 — 192 V — the same boat used to win Albany New York Marathon.

Bob Switzer, who won the 130 mile Albany to New York Hudson river marathon in August and became the DU National champion at Oakland, Cal., in September, has recently been voted a member of the "All American Racing Team" by Yachting magazine. A son of the Russell Switzers of McHenry, well known in the lake region, Bob celebrated his 21st birthday this month.

He will exhibit his racing outfit at the Chicago National Boat Show opening at the International Amphitheatre on Feb. 6, and has been interviewed on several television programs advertising the show. His boat will be completely equipped as he used it for the marathon, so novice drivers may gain pointers on set up. His boat will be a part of the display by Switzer-Craft, Inc., of McHenry.

Both Bob and his brother, David, who is the designer of the boats manufactured by this family enterprise were recently honored by the Chamber of Commerce of McHenry for the national publicity given McHenry through their activities. Each was presented with a handsome electric clock suitably inscribed.

Thank School Physics For Modern Miracles

SCHENECTADY, N.Y.—Don't be fooled by flashing lights spinning dials and rasping buzzers of modern scientific measuring instruments. The thing that really makes 'em tick is a principle out of that old high school physics book.

In fact, instrument engineers at the General Electric Company's general engineering laboratory here say most instruments are merely simple high school physics principles neatly wrapped in a carrying case.

Thumb-worn pages of elementary physics books at the laboratory indicate the popularity of simple principles when engineers are stuck for solutions to developmental problems.

Take that old principle concerning the boiling point of liquids—which decreases as altitude increases. It's riding high since being lifted from high school physics books to weather balloons for measuring altitudes up to 30 miles.

The principle is wrapped in a tiny and inexpensive instrument called a hypsometer. Liquid is brought to a boil in the device before being sent aloft. As the balloon rises, temperature of the liquid drops, but so does the boiling point. Temperature data from the continuously-boiling liquid are radioed to earthbound observers by the balloon's automatic transmitter, and in this way, the balloon's altitude can be calculated.

Bent Starlight Sends Scientist to Africa

WASHINGTON, D.C.—A National Geographic Society scientist is on his way to Khartoum, capital of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, in hope of proving that star light bends.

Dr. George Van Biesbroeck, professor emeritus of astronomy at Chicago University's Yerkes Observatory, left Washington to complete a study begun during last February's total eclipse of the sun over Khartoum.

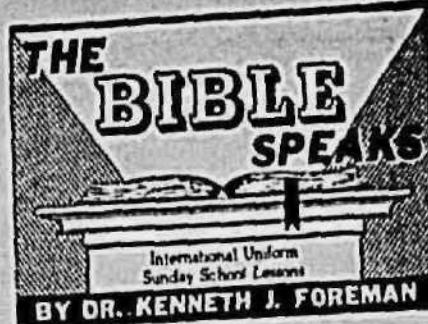

Using a giant telescope camera, Dr. Van Biesbroeck photographed the star field beyond the blacked-out sun, obtaining spectacular eclipse pictures. The telescope was left locked in position.

By photographing the same star field six months later—but in the night sky—the astronomer-physicist hopes to measure accurately the so-called "Einstein Shift," an apparent displacement in the position of the stars.

Years ago, Dr. Albert Einstein predicted that one of the proofs of his theory of relativity would be the observation of a slight bending in the rays of light from distant stars as the rays pass near the sun.

Weather Path

Two to six miles above the earth are the pathways where weather moves and is made. To foretell the unfolding seasons and their vagaries over the United States, weathermen now chart condition of the atmosphere over the entire northern hemisphere, high into the stratosphere.

"I WILL GIVE YOU the secret of true happiness." If a man starts talking in that vein he will have listeners at once. Jesus began his famous sermon on the mount with that magic word "happy." It is unfortunate that most of our English translations use the word "blessed" because for most people "blessed" is a church-word. They don't know whether they want to be blessed or not; they have no doubt about wanting to be happy. It is twice unfortunate that Jesus' meaning has been hidden under an even more forbidding word, "Beatitudes." What we have here is a series of one-sentence pictures of truly happy persons.

Dr. Foreman

What Christinns Are

In these sentences Jesus sketches the kind of person who "has," that is to say, belongs to, the Kingdom of Heaven. If God were forced to throw away some of the human race and keep others, these are the people he would keep. Jesus in these short sentences is picturing the Christ-like. He is not talking about what they believe but about what they are. There is all the difference in the world between Jesus' idea of a Christian and some of the popular ideas today. For example, many persons think of a Christian as a person who keeps a certain number of rules, or believes a certain number of things, or belongs to a peculiar kind of club called the church. But a club member may be exactly like the people on the outside except that he has paid his dues and they haven't; and some church members are just like non-church members except that they have paid their dues (or at least owe them) while the outsiders have not.

Finding True Happiness

Let us venture to put the meaning of Jesus into simple words of today. The following sentences are meant to suggest only some of the means wrapped in these truths-for-life. . . Do you want to know the secret of happiness? Jesus asks. I will tell you. The happy are those who know how little they know and how far from good they are. These are the real people, God's people. The happy are not always the gay; the happy are the serious, those who feel a sincere sorrow for their sins and shortcomings, sorry enough to turn away from them. The happy are those who do not insist on their own rights, who carry no chip on their shoulders, who are more interested in justice for others than for themselves. After the proud have destroyed the proud, these are the people to whom the earth belongs. The happy people are those who want to be good more than anything else in the world. This is the one desire that God always fulfills. Happy people are those that find their happiness in helping others; these are the people who will find helpers in their own time of need. Happy people are those who are pure, not in act alone but in inner thoughts and desires. They are the ones who have any eyes for God. Happy people are not only peaceable themselves but help others to live in peace as well. These are the people who are really God-like. Happy people are not always free from trouble; but their troubles have been caused chiefly not by their sins but by the fact that they are good. They have their heaven in their hearts.

Christians Are Different

You are happy yourselves (Jesus concludes) when the hard things said about you are lies. You are happy when you suffer as I suffer, on behalf of others. God will reward you; you belong to the glorious company of the best men of all time, for there never was a good friend of God who was not misunderstood and slandered. Jesus never explained all he meant. ("He who has ears, let him hear," he used to say.) But whatever may be puzzling, one thing is clear: Christians are different. If a man fits these descriptions over part-way, he is noticeably different from the run-of-mine human being. We cannot water down Jesus' ideas, for they are really radical. We should not try to make it sound easy; he did not. But let us be as frank as he was: If you want to find real happiness, if you want to belong to God's people, if you want to be a real Christian, this is it.

Always Late

"My word, Dick, you've got the latest thing in stenographers." "She is certainly that. She never gets here till ten."

SHORT STORY

The Doctor

By Helen Janney

LINDDALE had two doctors . . . two doctors about as different in every way as any two men could be. Doc Boggs was old, in his eighties, and he shouldn't have been practicing at all. He was cross and ill tempered and he often got his patients and their prescriptions all mixed up.

Doctor Willis, on the other hand was just pushing thirty. He was alert, dependable and pleasant to deal with. The women, especially, were most enthusiastic about him.

"Why," Mrs. Preston said, "when I called him for my Willie when he had the measles, he worked like a trooper. When Willie didn't do so well at first he actually cried. A doctor. What do you think of that?"

"I know," Mrs. Scott agreed. "He cried over my Martha, too. We both cried. He's sweet. I just love him."

You see, at first Doc Boggs was the only physician in town. People called him just because he was there. If they wanted somebody else they'd have to get a man in Bloomdale, thirty miles away. Everybody was mighty glad when young Doctor Willis came to Linddale to see about locating there.

For a while he dated this one and that, playing no favorite.

The business men and the farmers gave him a lot of encouragement. The young married women who were expecting babies welcomed him. In fact, the only person who opposed him in any way was old Doc Boggs.

"It's a one doctor town," he said when young Doc went to call on him. "We don't need or want another one here."

Doctor Willis came just the same and set up his practice on Elm Street. He was single so he fixed himself bachelor's quarters in the upstairs over his house. Old Mrs. South who used to do for Dr. Boggs went over to the young doc's now, which made old doc madder than ever.

IT SEEMED strange the way young Doc took on when Doc Boggs finally passed on. Not many even shed a tear at the funeral.

But young doctor Willis sat there crying openly. It made everybody think even more of him than they did before, for they knew that the old man had absolutely refused to cooperate with the younger one and that he lost no opportunity to run him down to his patients.

"What a wonderful husband Doc Boggs would make," was the thought in the minds of more than one mother of a marriageable aged daughter.

The girls themselves busied about inviting him to parties and dances. There was open rivalry for his attention.

For a while he dated this one and that, playing no favorites. One summer after he'd been away on his vacation he came back with a wife, a girl from his old home town in Ohio.

Jean, that was her name, had such a nice way with her that she soon made friends. When people kept saying over and over that her husband was the sweetest, most tender hearted man in the whole world, she sometimes looked a bit surprised. Sure, she thought he was great. That was one reason she married him, but nevertheless she felt a bit puzzled at times.

And then she found out something that nobody else knew. She kept still and just smiled when they began to rave about her husband. She smiled and went about her business of picking up after him, keeping him well fed and mended and not really minding the times when he was thoughtless and inconsiderate as all husbands are at times.

The way she found out was that one night he came home to dinner quite late and dog tired, too. When she looked at him she saw that his eyes were red.

"Don't tell me you've been crying?" she said.

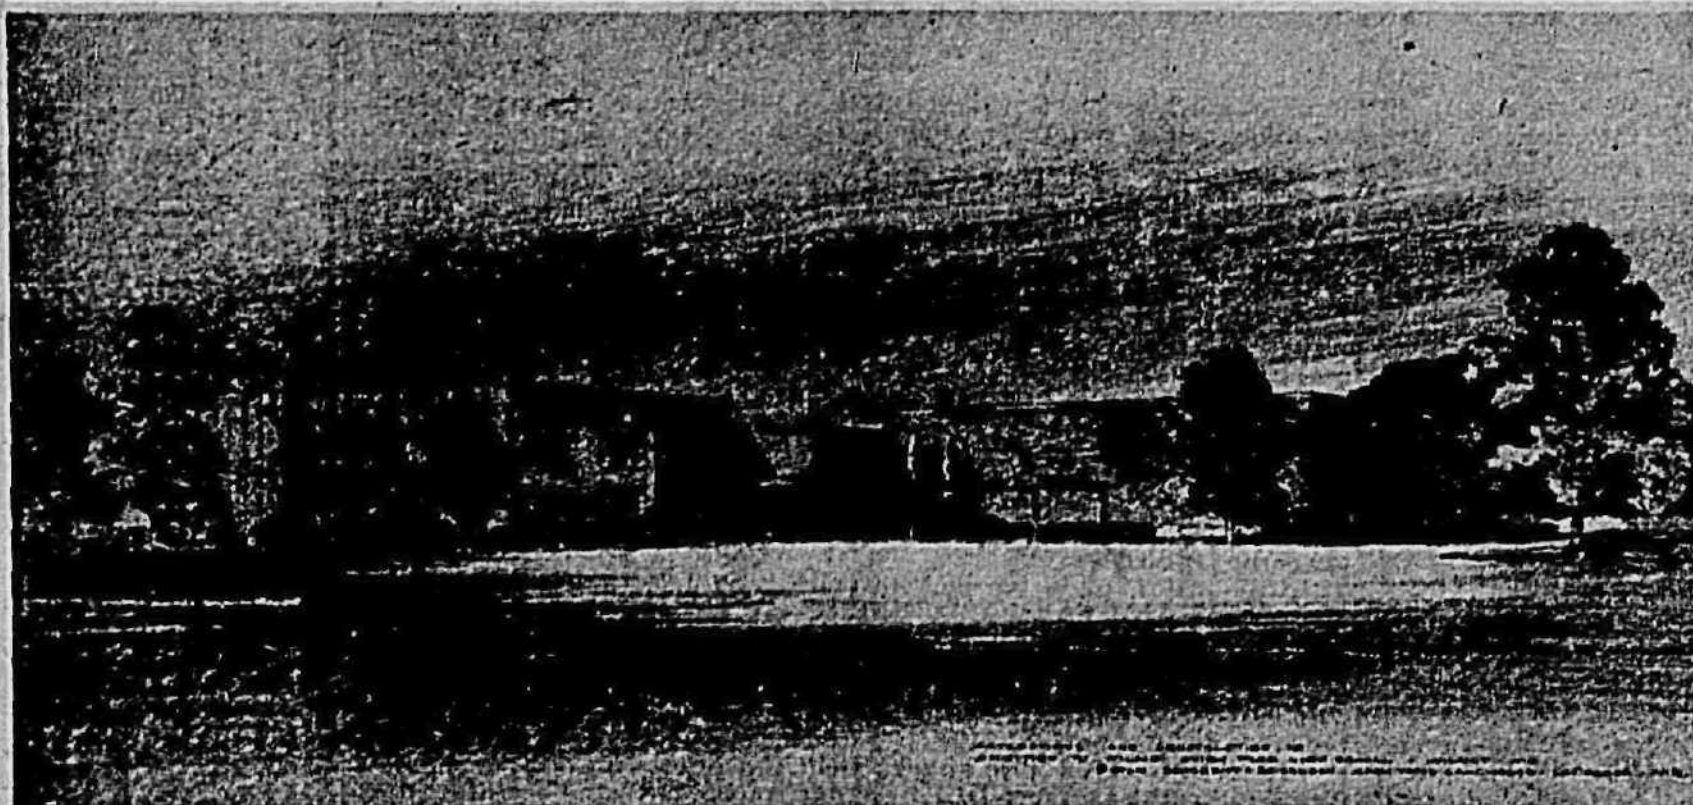

"Crying? Me?" he laughed. "What ever gave you that idea?"

"Your eyes. They look like it."

"It's those flowers," roses.

"It's those flowers always send roses to the sick? Every place I've been today has had a bouquet of 'em. I hate roses. I'm allergic to 'em. I have to take shots all the time. Roses roses roses!"

New Addition at Union Free High School To Be Dedicated Sunday

Pictured above is a front view of Union Free High School's new addition to its building. A dedication ceremony and open house will take place at the school on Sunday, Feb. 15, beginning at 12:30. A dedication program will begin at 2 p. m. with Principal Marlin M. Schnurr presiding. It will include music by the high school band, presentation of the high school board and other guests, remarks by the contractors and architects and movies of the construction.

The new addition includes a Science Laboratory, Social Science Room, Music Rooms, Shop Rooms, General and Private Office, Boys' and Girls' Washrooms; also a gymnasium auditorium 94 ft x 96 ft. with a suspended acoustical ceiling and adequate and shower rooms for both boys and girls. The playing floor for basketball is 50 ft. x 84 ft. and there are two cross courts for practice. Folding bleachers are used for seating and there is sufficient space to eventually provide seating for 1800 people at basketball games. The stage 44 ft x 26 ft has exceptionally fine rigging and lighting. Alterations to the original building provide a new modern heating and ventilation plant, acoustical treatment and the conversion of a classroom to a library; a Fine Arts Department and a Manual Arts Department have been added to the curriculum of the school, thereby providing a complete program for the students in all high school course areas.

Although invitations have been sent out to graduates of the school and other interested persons, the program is open to the public and all interested persons are invited to visit what is believed to be one of the finest small high school plants in the area.

A resident of Waukegan, Mr. Gartley had been an employee of the North Shore line for many years. Services were held at 2 p. m. yesterday at Christ Episcopal church with burial in Northshore Garden of Memories.

Surviving besides the widow, Lillian, are two daughters, three grandchildren, four sisters, a brother, and the mother, Mrs. George Gartley of North Chicago.

McHenry Kiwanis Club Sponsors Ice Racing

Harness racing on ice, one of the greatest thrills in winter sports will again be run this year on Sunday afternoon, Feb. 15, when the Kiwanis club of McHenry township conducts its annual benefit at Slocum lake, two miles west of Wauconda, on route 178.

In an effort to raise funds for its children's activities program for 1953, the Kiwanis club will present, for the third season, a program of harness racing on ice featuring top pacers and trotters from this area. There will be three classes of harness racing and two heats will be run for each class to determine the final winner. The horses will be fitted with special shoes to keep them from losing footing while running on the ice.

If weather conditions are unfavorable Sunday the race will be held Feb. 22.

Prospectors

The uranium search has attracted hundreds of lone-wolf prospectors, some amateur, some professional. However, modern prospecting for the most part requires a considerable bankroll, irrespective of whether Uncle Sam picks up part of the cost. Best equipped to do this type of job of course are the mineral industries firms which long have maintained exploration and development programs.

Old Type Planes

Army aviators now are flying four types of multi-place, fixed wing aircraft—two of which are being phased out of operation as rapidly as the other two, newer model planes can be procured. The planes being replaced are the L-11, which carries a pilot and three passengers or equivalent cargo, and the L-12, an interim aircraft pending selection of a standard, multi-place machine.

Central High to Give Musical Recital Friday

The music department of Central High school, near Salem, under the direction of Maurice Rockwell will give a pre-contest recital for solos and ensembles, both vocal and instrumental, at 8 p. m. tomorrow (Friday) in the high school gymnasium. The public is welcome. There will be a slight adult charge to defray expense of the music, but students will be admitted free.

New Nebulae

Across the continent, atop California's Palomar Mountain, astronomers have photographed and recorded one-third of the visible heavens out to a distance of 350 million light years. A thousand new clusters of nebulae have been discovered so far in a comprehensive sky survey.

First Senior Ball at Central High, Salem, Will Be Public Event

Invitation has been extended by the first senior class of Central High School, Salem, Wis., to the public to attend the Senior ball at 9 p. m. Saturday, Feb. 21.

The gymnasium which recently has been completed will be decorated to the theme "Lost in the Stars."

Music will be provided by Joe Petrini and his orchestra.

Blind Flying

Instrument (blind flying) training is being given army aviators in this country through each of the six continental army headquarters, which have contracts with qualified civilian flight training agencies in their areas.

Regal Trick

The title "Prince of Wales" was created by King Edward I of England more than 600 years ago, to appease the Welsh, after he had defeated them in battle. Edward "promised" the Welsh leaders a prince who could not speak a word of either French or English, in return for their loyalty to him. The Welsh, thinking he meant one of their own chieftains, agreed instantly. Whereupon, Edward, faithful to his promise, presented to them his newborn son as the first "Prince of Wales."

Lost Weekends

In Adelaide, Australia, to save farmers the trouble of milking seven days a week, Governor Sir Willoughby Norrie suggested that they investigate the possibility of hormone treatments, discover a way to keep cows from giving milk on weekends.

Farmer's Question Corner

PREPARED BY American Foundation
For Animal Health

WHAT ABOUT COCCIDIOSIS?

Q: What causes coccidiosis in farm animals?

A: This is an intestinal disorder which is caused by tiny, internal parasites called coccidia.

Q: What farm animals does it affect?

A: Almost every domestic animal, including cattle, sheep, goats, swine, pet stock and poultry. Young calves are especially susceptible.

Q: Is the disease fatal?

A: It varies. However, it does kill a great many animals. Many calves die within a week after they show first symptoms.

Q: Does the same parasite attack all species of animals?

A: No, each livestock species has its own type of coccidial infection. Lambs, for instance, may graze on pastures where calves are actually sick with coccidiosis and still not pick up the disease.

Q: How do animals get this infection?

A: Various factors may lead to an outbreak. Perhaps animals and poultry are overcrowded, or grouped with infected herds or flocks. Outbreaks may occur among feeder animals in congested yards. Neglect of sanitation may be a cause. Parasites may be picked up from stagnant ponds or bays.

Q: What are the symptoms?

A: They include straining, reddish scouring, rapid loss of weight and extreme weakness.

Q: Is there any treatment?

A: Yes. Early treatment usually is followed by good results. Careful sanitation, clean quarters, and segregation of birds and animals by age groups, will help prevent outbreaks. NOTE—Due to space limitations, general questions cannot be handled by this column.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The glorious truth that evil and all inharmonious are not God-created, hence unreal and untrue, frees man from the bondage of sin and purifies the affections and desires. The way to achieve this freedom will be explained in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 15. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be SOUL.

The Golden Text is from Psalms (130:6) "My soul waiteth for the Lord more than they that watch for the morning."

Bible selections (King James Version) in the Lesson-Sermon include:

"Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed; and make you a new heart and a new spirit; for why will ye die, O house of Israel? For I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord God: wherefore turn yourselves and live ye" (Ezek. 18:31, 32).

Selections from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"We are commonly taught that there is a human soul which sins and is spiritually lost,—that soul may be lost, and yet be immortal. If soul could sin, Spirit, Soul, would be flesh instead of Spirit. It is the belief of the flesh and of material sense which sins. If soul sinned, Soul would die. Sin is the element of self-destruction, and spiritual death is oblivion. If there was sin in Soul, the annihilation of Spirit would be inevitable... Soul is the divine Principle of man and never sins,—hence the immortality of Soul" (pp. 310, 431).

LEFTOVERS

The mistress who engaged a new cook made a tour of investigation after she had kept her a week and found a policeman locked up in the pantry. "How did this man get here?" she asked severely. "I'm sure I don't know," was the reply. "He must have been left over by the last cook."

No Greek Business
"There's a college graduate at the door. He wants a job." "What can he do?" asked the self-made man. "He says he's pretty good in Greek." "Umph! Tell him I haven't sold $2 worth of goods to Greece since I've been in the export business."

The Last Battle
Teacher—"In what battle did Gen. Wolfe, when hearing of victory, cry, 'I die happy'?" Johnny—"I think it was his last battle."

MAN CAN HOPE

Ma—"Don't you think Emily sings with a good deal of feeling?"
Pa—"Yes but I hope she doesn't feel as bad as I sounds."

Her Strong Point
"Wonder why the boss keeps that stenographer, she can't spell."
"No; casting a spell is her strong point."

Past Explaining
What a stenog can't understand is why, when she is such a treat for the boss's eyes, he should get so nasty about a few misspelled words and balled-up letters.

Maybe She Will
Modern Girl—Would make a wonderful cook if she could find a kitchen that was run by a steering wheel.

Nice Base of Greens
Lettuce, chicory and watercress form a nice base of greens to serve with well-seasoned cottage cheese.
